DEMAND ELECTION OF HUGHES.

Urging women voters to cast their ballots against Woodrow Wilson and in favor of Charles Evans Hughes for president of the United States, Mrs. Wm. Kent, of California, wife of Congressman Kent, spoke at the Clark republican meeting Friday evening. Congressman Kent is chairman of the national Wilson league, an ardent Wilson supporter, but Mrs. Kent takes a different view from that of her distinguished husband. She believes the best interests of the women demand the election of Hughes, and she does not fail to make her belief clear. "This is a high-minded effort on the part of voting women to be good citizens," said Mrs. Kent. "We are not militants," she said. "In fact, we are just the opposite—we are not gathering clubs and brickbats, we are gathering votes." Mrs. Kent made a most telling address, and won much applause when she announced her intention of giving Mr. Hughes her vote. She spoke as a member of the women's national party, and said that the party had decided upon support of Hughes as best representing their ideals and best able to "get them somewhere."

The meeting Friday evening was well attended, there being fully as many as were present to hear Chamberlain Wednesday evening. The Chamberlain meeting was augmented by a couple of hundred of the visiting school teachers, who had left town Friday night, so that the republicans had many more local voters than did the democrats at their meeting. More than half the audience was composed of women. Previous to the meeting the Moose band discoursed music upon the streets, and during the progress of the meeting a quartette, of J. S. MacMurray, Paul Blanchard, J. M. Isham and H. L. Stonaker, sang some lively campaign songs that brought down the plaudits of the house upon them.

Hon. A. E. Clark, of Portland, who delivered the principal address of the evening, had about lost his voice through the strenuous campaigning in which he had been engaged, and for the first few minutes of his address had difficulty in making himself heard. He gradually recovered, however, and was soon in the swing of a magnificent speech that spoiled the effect of the democratic doctrine handed out in such copious quantity by the senior senator from Oregon. Answering the claim that the tariff was not an issue, Mr. Clark called attention to the prosperity of the country for the decade before 1912, and the stagnation that followed the advent of the democratic party into power. The present industrial prosperity, he said, was based wholly upon the trade made possible by the European war, and he predicted overwhelming disaster unless the country returns to a protective tariff before the war closes.

Hughes friendly attitude to labor was showed by the speaker, who told of the many measures for the amelioration of the condition of the laboring man and woman passed during the time Hughes was governor of New

Social

Stag Party

The Pawnee boys of the Methodist Sunday school met with Horace Hair, one of their number, at the J. E. Hair home, on Washington boulevard, Wednesday evening of last week.

After the business meeting, which claimed an early hour, those present were taken to a nearby flat, where a jolly time was spent around a crackling bonfire. Weiners, doughnuts and cider were the refreshments.

Those present were Wallace Niles, Paul Day, Lester Day, Bob Brockley, Dan Devor, Frank Price, H. H. Basler, teacher of the class, and host of the party, Horace Hair.

Teenie Weenie's Meet

The teenie weenies met Thursday evening of last week at the Pallin home, on D street, where the time passed quickly with afternoon games.

At the close of the good time refreshments were served to the following members present: Gladys Shinn, Arda Isham, Eleanor Coughle, Marionne Heath, and their small hostess, Dorothy Fallin.

Mrs. Fry Hostess

Mrs. J. D. Fry entertained members of the "Do As You Please" club at afternoon coffee at her home on A street Monday.

Mrs. Gertrude Davis, from Greeley, Colo., was guest of honor.

The regular club members and their visitors, Mrs. Gillfillan and Miss Minnie L. Tufts, were present.

Guests salad, nut sandwiches, coffee, and orange cake were served. Decorations were of lavender asters and evergreens. Fancy work filled the social hour.

Surprise Supper

The Misses Stella Feldmaier, Dora Herman, and Genevieve Helm were guests of honor at the birthday surprise supper given by the Campfire girls at the H. L. Gilkey home Thursday evening of last week.

When the party met in the Campfire rooms it did not take the honored guests long to find the three baskets of "eats" which they were told were hidden somewhere about the room, and very soon all sat down to a spread of potato chips, salad, sandwiches, ham, cookies, and pickles served picnic style on the lawn.

Those present were the Misses Lucile Garber, Grace Presley, Vivian Isham, Esther Gilkey, Helen Fifield, Stella Feldmaier, Dora Herman, Genevieve Helm, Guardian Mrs. Harry Clark, and Visitor Miss Margaret Hodgson, who is visiting the J. M. Isham family, of this city, and attending institute.

Farewell Party

Friday, October 6, a jolly party of ten gathered at the home of Miss Ruth Geisler for the evening taffy pull given as a farewell to Miss Lucile Harter, who left for the east Tuesday.

Those present were the Misses Ollie Moore, Gertrude Berry, Lucile Harter, Mildred Dawkins, Florence Dawkins, Helen Bobzien, Florence Riddle, Esther Gilkey, Genevieve Helm, and hostess, Ruth Geisler.

Virginia reel and the germania created a great deal of merriment. At the close of the party hours the guests were served with dainty sandwiches, cocoa, with marshmallows and marguerites.

Farewell Luncheon

Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union were hostesses at the luncheon given as a farewell to Mrs. G. M. Caldwell, one of their number, Tuesday afternoon of last week, at the home of Mrs. M. E. Graham on North Sixth street.

Mrs. Caldwell, who has just left her work as county president, has been an earnest and faithful worker in the union for the past fourteen years, during which time she has served twice as local president and filled several minor offices. As a token of remembrance the union presented Mrs. Caldwell with a very fine portrait of Miss Francis E. Willard.

The ladies present were Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. M. E. Graham, Mrs. A. B. Pratt, Mrs. C. G. Gillette, Mrs. Amos Myers, Mrs. Albert M. Evenson, Miss Edna Honck, Mrs. Houck, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. E. D. Shook, Mrs. Harry Coughle, Mrs. H. L. Darnelle, Mrs. John Summers, and Miss Gladys Colvig.

Following a sumptuous picnic lunch, which was served cafeteria style those of the party were taken in autos to the depot to bid the honored guest good-by.

Bluebirds Entertain

Members of the Bluebird class of the Methodist Sunday school were hostesses on the evening of October 13 at the party given in the Methodist church parlors.

Autumn leaves were used in decoration of the rooms, which were arranged with cushions and home furnishings to give an individual effect.

A primary program was the leading feature of the evening entertainment. Refreshments were ice cream and wafers.

Those present were the Misses Vivian Isham, Edythe Robinson, Helen Fifield, Ulda Basler, Edna Robinson, Irene Colwell, Esther Gilkey, Inga Krussell, Arline Bunch, Freida Gebers, Stella Feldmaier, Grete Stekel, Clara Knips, Goodrun Anderson, Marie Christie, Helen Ellis, Lorene Courtney, Mrs. M. C. Van Leuven, and Messrs. M. T. Wire, Hubert Wilkins, Dan Devor, Lester Day, Paul Day, Wallace Niles, Dick Mathews, Don Lucas, Horace Hair.

Informal Dance

On invitation to an informal dance on the evening of October 7 a group of high school students gathered at the Guild hall and spent an enjoyable social evening.

Punch was served during the hours.

Party for Bride

On the evening of October 7 a number of friends of Cassius Hendricks gathered at the Spa parlors, on North Sixth street, as guests of the welcome party given the new bride, Mrs. Cassius Hendricks. When the guests were assembled an impromptu wedding march was played and the newly wedded were ushered in and introduced to their party friends.

The evening was spent with music and cards. Bride's cake, with whipped cream, mince pie, and chocolate potato cake were served.

The following were present: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Holcomb, Mrs. Jack Allison, Mrs. A. B. Berry, Mrs. Hendricks, Mrs. E. R. Crouch, Mrs. Albert M. Evenson, Mr. and Mrs. John Summers, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Crouch and daughter, Florence, Mrs. Gregg, Evert and Doris Gregg, Mrs. Charles Gray, Mrs. Marve Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Gilkison, Mr. and Mrs. C. Greis, Mr. and Mrs. Cassius Hendricks, the Misses Irene Mercer, Lorene Courtney, Mary Hackney, and Messrs. Harold Terwilliger, Clinton Miller, Luther Wyatt and Park McCracken.

Wednesday Evening Farewell

The A. A. Hyde home at Murphy was the scene of a jolly party Wednesday evening of last week, which was given in the nature of a lawn function as a farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon, who will leave soon for Canada.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dixon, Mrs. Samuel Ellis, Helen Ellis, Mrs. Albert Anderson, Nora, Ella, Goodrun and Evelyn Anderson, Emma Haberman, Ray Haberman, Robert, Netta, Lloyd and Nola Lindsay, Ike Derrick, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hyde, Harry Hyde, Edwin Topping, Frank Turvey, Chester Kimball, Gertrude Ainsworth, Cora Lettken, Willie Hyde, Warde Hyde, Maude, Bertha, and Fred Hyde.

The party came in autos and hay racks. During the evening the crowd gathered around a huge bonfire and roasted weiners and toasted marshmallows. Coffee, cake and sandwiches completed the spread. Outdoor games lead the amusements.

Miss White Entertains

Miss Marian J. White was hostess on the evening of October 14 at her home at 516 B street, when she pleasantly and informally entertained at dinner in honor of her visiting friend, Miss Grace Pearce, from Medford.

Covers were laid for six. Of the dinner, which was three course, chicken was served as the feature dish.

Dinner for Teachers

Teachers and patrons of the city schools entertained the visiting teachers of the institute on the evening of October 11. Following a delightful auto ride around the valley the guests were taken to the Methodist church parlors, where salad, the first course of a sumptuous dinner, was served. Here Miss Winifred Flanagan was at the piano. The second course was served in the Presbyterian church, where the school Victrola provided music. Covers were laid for about one hundred, twenty being served at each table, with a local teacher to serve at each.

The menu was roast beef, brown gravy, escalloped potatoes, baked squash, pickles and jelly. Baskets of apples were used in table decoration.

For the last course the crowd assembled at the Guild hall, where pie a la mode and coffee closed the evening meal. During the last course instrumental music was supplied by the committee.

Following the dinner several gathered at the opera house auditorium to hear Senator Chamberlain.

Wedded Thursday Evening

At the home of her mother, Mrs. Sarah Newell, on West G street, Miss Katherine Newell became the bride of William W. Lafferty at 8:30 o'clock Thursday evening, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. S. A. Douglas, pastor of the local Baptist church. The wedding was a quiet home affair, only relatives and the close personal friends of the principals being present, the witnesses to the happy event being Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wilson, Miss Lida Fifield, Mrs. Eva Coe, E. E. Blanchard, and Ivan Howell. Following the ceremony refreshments were served, when Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty left for the home that had been arranged for them at 223 C street.

Mr. Lafferty will long remember the trials of a would-be benedict, for the fates came near robbing him of his bride upon the day and date set for the wedding. He neglected to keep in mind the fact that America was discovered by one Christopher Columbus, and that now one day of the year is set aside as Columbus day, a legal holiday. When it came time to get a license Lafferty could find no official who had authority to issue one. For hours the country was scoured and the discovery of happiness and peace of mind for Lafferty was not made till the wedding bells were about due to jingle. The troubles of Lafferty in his quest of happiness were appropriately set forth in verse by Mr. Blanchard.
